Lexaria Bioscience Enters CBD Beverage License Agreement with Nic's Beverages

Kelowna, British Columbia – July 10, 2019 – Lexaria Bioscience Corp. (OTCQX: LXRP) (CSE: LXX) (the “Company” or “Lexaria”), a drug delivery platform innovator, announces that it has entered a definitive 5-year agreement, via its subsidiary Lexaria Hemp Corp, to provide Lexaria’s patented DehydraTECH™ technology to Nic’s Beverages Ltd for use in CBD-based beverages to be produced and sold throughout the United States.

This new license is the fourth beverage license awarded by Lexaria; three of which are for immediate use in the US and one in Canada pending new legislation taking effect in October.

Nic’s Beverages will initially begin production of ready-to-drink (“RTD”) cold brew coffees enhanced with CBD from multi spectrum hemp oil.

“We are currently in discussions with major wholesale houses and are looking to be in the market by the first of October,” said John Goodpasture, CEO of Nic’s Beverages. “DehydraTECH technology is perfect in allowing us to deliver CBD from hemp oil with zero impact on our cold brewed coffee’s outstanding aroma or flavour. Nic’s is extremely excited about our new product lines and our continued growth with Lexaria.”

Nic’s Beverages started out simply from a father and son’s love of a good cup of coffee. Nic’s is a smooth Cold Brew Coffee that is infused with CBD. Available in 4 unique flavors and coming soon to a convenience store near you.

About Lexaria

Lexaria Bioscience Corp. has developed and out-licenses its disruptive delivery technology that promotes healthier ingestion methods, lower overall dosing and higher effectiveness of lipophilic active molecules. Lexaria has multiple patents pending in over 40 countries around the world and has patents granted in the USA and in Australia for utilization of its DehydraTECH™ delivery technology. Lexaria’s technology provides increases in intestinal absorption rates; more rapid delivery to the bloodstream; and important taste-masking benefits, for orally administered bioactive molecules including cannabinoids, vitamins, non-steroidal anti-inflammatory drugs (NSAIDs), nicotine and other molecules.

Lexaria Bioscience Enters CBD License Agreement with Universal Hemp

Kelowna, British Columbia – July 11, 2019 – Lexaria Bioscience Corp. (OTCQX: LXP) (CSE: LXX) (the “Company” or “Lexaria”), a drug delivery platform innovator, announces that it has entered a definitive 5-year agreement, via its subsidiary Lexaria Hemp Corp., to provide Lexaria’s patented DehydraTECH™ technology to Universal Hemp LLC, a B2B manufacturing company of high-performing hemp-derived bulk ingredients to the nutraceutical and consumer packaged goods industries, for utilization into many CBD-based food ingredients to be produced and sold across the USA immediately, and in Canada when regulations permit.

Competitive financial details including royalty rates remain confidential and undisclosed although the companies have agreed to disclose minimum payments over the life of the agreement of US$3,750,000.

“We are very excited about signing this licensing agreement with Lexaria Bioscience to bring to market Lexaria’s highly effective delivery system which makes cannabidiol or hemp-derived CBD readily available in the human body,” said Chad Kahunahana, CEO and Founder of Universal Hemp. “Lexaria’s unique technology was developed over many years for specified applications and is now, for the first time, being applied to CBD at scale and available for general use. We anticipate our SuperBio Infusion line of ingredients will become the industry leader for CBD-infused health and beauty, food and beverage, wellness, athletic and other products where maximum performance is vital. In terms of bioavailability, shelf stability and taste this is the best performing technology in the market, hands down. Our corporate customers cannot wait to put our water-soluble solution into their products!” added Kahunahana.

The DehydraTECH-enabled food ingredients are protected under Lexaria’s many existing US-granted patents and may include forms such as CBD-infused wheat or corn flour, gum Arabic, whey protein, green tea, tapioca starch and many others including forms suitable for beverage and dietary supplement formulation.

“We are pleased to announce our new licensee Universal Hemp whose well respected presence in the hemp industry will enable our patented technology to have widespread use and distribution in high-performance products providing precision dosing, maximum strength, and rapid uptake,” said Chris Bunka, Lexaria Bioscience CEO.

Universal Hemp plans to make its CBD-infused bulk food ingredients available throughout the USA immediately, and in Canada when regulations permit.

About the Market

According to industry research, U.S. sales of CBD are expected to grow 10x to an estimated $20 Billion by 2024. Edibles such as food, drinks and nutritional supplements are the largest category for CBD products. With the passage of the 2018 Farm Bill which included the Hemp Farming Act of 2018, all parts of the industrial hemp plant, including CBD and other hemp-derived cannabinoids, can be sold legally across the United States.

About Universal Hemp

Universal Hemp LLC is a leading manufacturer of hemp-based raw ingredients and CBD derivatives for innovative brands. The company plans to make its CBD-infused bulk food ingredients available across the USA immediately and in Canada when regulations permit. The company has offices in Boulder, Colorado; Brooklyn, New York; and Honolulu, Hawaii. Universal Hemp is currently in discussions with blue-chip investors to raise a significant funding round to build the largest cGMP manufacturing facility in North America for full-spectrum, highly-bioavailable bulk ingestible CBD-based ingredients to supply the rapidly growing needs of its customers. www.universalhemp.co
